

Have you ever served in the military or are you the spouse of a veteran?

Federal law entitles veterans and eligible spouses priority access to WorkSource services. This includes priority referrals to jobs that are listed with WorkSource, as well as other employment and training programs.

WorkSource helps thousands of veterans every year take the next step in their career. On any given day, WorkSource has over 100,000 job listings.

If you are a veteran or the spouse of a veteran,
then we'd like to say —

“Thank you for serving our country!”

Most WorkSource offices have veteran employment specialists who help military veterans, transitioning service members and eligible spouses with significant employment barriers. They'll assess your skills and interests and put together an employment plan that's right for you.

These specialists are veterans, too. They understand your situation and they're in close touch with veterans' organizations and resources that can help you.

WorkSource is here to serve you.

Veterans and eligible spouses receive priority in these and other programs.

WorkSource employment services

Employment services include job referrals, employment counseling, job search workshops and referrals to training programs. Employment services are available to all individuals eligible to work in the United States.

Training programs

WorkSource refers veterans and eligible spouses to specialized training programs. If approved, training in an in-demand occupation may be available. Low-income adults may qualify. Active-duty members who separate from service are often considered dislocated workers and may qualify for specialized help.

WorkSource priority service for veterans

You are eligible for priority service if:

- You served at least one day of active duty not in training and left without a dishonorable discharge. These terms include Reserve and National Guard members activated under Title 10.
- You are the spouse of a U.S. military veteran who:
  - Died as the result of a service-related disability; or
  - Is reported as missing in action or a prisoner of war; or
  - Has been forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power for more than 90 days; or
  - Has a total, permanent disability resulting from military service.

Hilton Honors Military Program

The Hilton Honors Military Program gives back. Veterans, transitioning service members, and military spouses can receive a lifetime limit of 100,000 points to stay at Hilton hotels when they travel for approved job search activities.
